Conversation with Jessica Walker and Mojgan Shamsalipoor

At 17, Mojgan Shamsalipoor made the dangerous journey across the sea from Iran to Australia seeking asylum. After 3 years investigation and appeals, her case was rejected and she was taken into Immigration Detention as she was about to begin Year 12. Her entire school community took action to protest her appalling treatment. Mojgan's visa expires in December and the Department of Immigration have given her a "strong message" that she is "expected to make plans to return to Iran".

Jessica Walker is Deputy Principal at Yeronga SHS where students come from over 60 countries and over half are from refugee or asylum-seeking backgrounds.

When Mojgan was forcibly transferred to Darwin, Jessica initiated the "#FreeMojgan Movement" and has been passionately advocating for her right to live free in Australia ever since.
